The Purpose Believed to Be to Base New Circulation on the Bonds-lianks Out-side New York May Pollow the Lead, Beveral of the larger national banks have taken the preliminary steps toward organiz-ing a syndicate to absorb from $5,000,000 to $6,000,000 of the (% per cent, bonds at the extension rate of 2 per cent. The object is believed to be the issue of additional circulating rates based on the bonds. It is televed that if such a block of bonds is taken by the national banks it will not be for the purp sauf securing the small profit on the transaction. This profit will not exceed one-half of 1 per cent. The increase of the circulating medium, which is said to be contemplated, is a matter of esmands of the West for money to move the crops are heavy and continuous.

It was stated yesterday that whether or not the syndicate is successfully formed depends largely upon the Bank of Commerce the American Exchange National Bank, the Fourth National Bank, the Importers and Traders', the Merchants', the Western National, and one or two others which have a large capital and are able to subscribe for a considerable block of the bonds. The Gallatin National Bank and several others, it is positively stated, have consented to take their of bonds, provided a round amount aggregating $6,000,000 is taken up. Frederick D. Tappen. President of the Geliatia Bank. is also Chairman of the Cleating House Com-

The opinion is expressed on Wall stre t that If this syndicate is successfully organized syndicates of a similar nature will be immediately organized in Chicag . Boston, Philadelphia. and other cities. There have been representatives of Western banks in New York in the last fow ders who are convinced that the Western banks in the big cities would go into a movement similar to that now being canvassed by the New York banks.

There have been surmises based on Secretary Foster's visit to Long Branch on Sunday that he inspired the movement. He did not. It is learned that Mr. Foster is periestly well satisfied already with the result of the 41. per cent extension. So far $22,000,000 of the bonds have been landed in for extension at two per cent., and Mr. Foster regards this as a triumph for the Harrison Administration. He believes that by next Tuesday fully onewill be handed in for extension at two per cent. In any event Mr. Foster's friends in Wall street yesterday said that the Secretary had now ample funds in the Treasury to redeem all the 4 's which are not extended.

BHARP DECLINE IN WHEAT AND CORN.

The Bears Force Prices Down on Receipt of Foreign and Domestic News.

CHICAGO, Aug. 28.-The bears in wheat and corn had their innings to-day. Those in wheat made a dash at the market at the opening, and were encouraged by the news which came to hand in the course of the session to follow it up with a succession of heavy rushes, and prices closed 2'sc. lower than they did yesterday. The corn seliers were almost as successful in their operations, knocking 21c, off the previous day's values. Oats and provisions were also weak, but in a minor degree.

Sensati nal rejorts telling of ice in the wheat fields of North Dakota, published this morning, were not reflected in the prices at the opening, private advices and the On the other hand, instead of a general buying movement, there was a pronounced tendency to the relling side at the start. December of ened at 101's to 103's, with many sales at about the same time as low as 103% to 103%. As this was not far from the price of puts for to-day, some buying for a reaction stended the market, and a recovery to around 103% took place in the course of the first fifteen minutes' trading. This improvement was of short duration, and the market during the next two hours had a series of declines with very little reaction till noon, the price working off in that reaction till noon, the price working off in that time, in a veries of spasmodic slumps, to 101%. In addition to the absence of damaging frost the foreign markets were all lower on improving wenther in England and on the Continent Oned saw chifton Paris received here early in the session said wheat was 's frame lower, weather involved to the cooper of the receipts in the Northwest were also heavier.

The receipts in the Northwest were also heavier.

The only bullish item in the forences's news was the clearances from the Atlantic ports. From which New York, Philadelphia, and Baltimore aggregated over 690 000 bushels of wheat. There was a further break in prices shortly after 12 o'clock, but's being reached, then Mc. reaction took place.

The dealings in corn were heavy, with the sellers largely pre-ailing in their efforts and in heir laduence upon prices. The frost predicted for last hight according to the Signal Bervice Bureau, limited its appearance to a narrow belt around Sioux Civ, is., and a spot or two in northern Wisconsin. As frost has been depended upon by the bulls to put prices up, its non-sprearance acted in the opposite direction and prices took a tumble inmediately upon the opening of the market. After seelling to a moderate extent at 58%c. it recovered to 59%c, but instantly became weaker and continued to go from that to weaker, and when wheat made its biggest break it was at its weakest, dropping to 50%c. There was a recovery on covering by shorts near the close at 57%c. Oats sympathized strongly with wheat and corn.

Wheat had a fall on the Produce Exchange yesteriay. At one time the decline was almost S cenie a bushel. The final figures did not show improvement. The break was largely caused by the weak cables from the United Kingdom and Continent, another day of large receipts, this time aggregating 1.959.831 bushels, and rather better weather in England. All these influences induced foreign and domestic soiling. The chearances were very liberal, but there were not up to the receipts, especially at these were not up to the receipts, especially at these were not up to the receipts, especially at these were not up to the receipts especially at the string wheat points. The Strike for Fresh Air. New Haven, Aug. 28.-The 200 bootmakers who struck at L. Candee & Co.'s rubber factory because they could not get fresh air returned to work again this morning. They opened the windows and began their labors. In a few minutes the foreman ordered them closed, and all immediately left the shop again. closed, and all immediately left the shop again. They sent a committee to Superintendent Ellisto with the proposal that if he would allow the windows to be opened they would make up for lost time and work until midnight if necessary. He refused, saying that the air spoiled the goods. The men on the other hand, offer to pay half the expense of hiring a chemist to settle the question whether the air spoils the boot rubber. The preposition was not accented. The men expect Labor (formissioner Hotchkiss to visit the factory this afternoon.

It took little to convince the street this morning that its fears of serious damage to the growing crops had been groundless. There was a frost, as predicted, but the damage was slight, and furthermore, there is the probability of one or two weeks of hot weather sufficient, in fact, to practically assure the Northwest. The first indication of a revival of confidence was the higher quotations for American securities in the London market. The foreigners had been fully advised of the climatic conditions and had purchased early in the day a line of at least 25,000 shares which was reflected in the opening of the local Board. Such is the influence of the foreign market that as soon as its tendency was disclosed there was a rush to cover the short contracts that had been put out yesterday, and to this demand for stocks was added that of the commission houses.

Another significant feature, and one which exerted an important influence in giving strength to the market, was the weakness of sterling exchange in consequence of freer offerings of security and grain bills. Demand sterling dropped to 4.84%, which is within one cent on the round of the figures at which it will be profitable to import gold. The probability of a further reduction in the rate is increased by the liberal purchases of stocks and breadstuffs now in progress, and with the re-turn of the first installment of the gold which was so liberally distributed over Europe in the spring is the prospect of a much more active speculation in stocks.

The market, both for stocks and bonds, has been fairly active and strong, with the same distribution of business that has characterized the trading of the past few days. The trading in Atchison, C. B. and Quiner. St. Faul, Louisville and Nashville, and Union Pacific has been heavy, and a large portion of the purchases were undoubtedly for London accounts. Now they are in a different frame of mind, Sr. Paul. Aug. 28.-Oliver Dalrympie, North Dakota's great wheat grower, says that he estimated up to yesterday that the frost had destroyed about one-seventh of the entire wheat and out crop in the Red River Valley from Fargo to the British possessions. TRANSATLANTIC CATTLE TRADE. An Uproarious Meeting Near London Dis-cusses Its Methods, LONDON, Aug. 28.-There was an uproarious meeting yeaterday avening at Bermondsey, one of the shipping and shipbuilding subarbs of this metropoils. The meeting was called, according to announcement to protest against the bill advocated and fathered by the Right Hon. Henry Chaplin, President of the Board of Agriculture, and aimed at reforming the abuses complained of in connection with the transatiantic cattle trade.

The attention of the public was first called to the transatiantic herrors by the report of the special committee appointed to investigate the abuses complained of. In this report many recommendations were made as to the cattle trade letween America and England, and several radical reforms were projected with the view of pre-venting further suffering at sea. Phipowners and others interested in the transportation of cattle acrors the Atlantic raised considerable opposition, but on the strength of the report Mr. Chaplin introduced a bill intended to follow out the suggestions of the arcelal com-mittee. To this bill the cattle men raised an opposition so when that the neasure had to be withdrawn, Subsequentir, however, a mod-ified bill was introduced giving the depar-ment further powers which would enable it to ment further powers which would enable it to correct at least some of the abuses complained of.

The recent transatiantic horrors described by the newspaper press after the seamship Loch Loment's arrival at Dundee on Aug. 23 caused considerable popular attention to be directed upon the ocean cattle trail, and encouraged the friends of the reform measures to renew their enors to obtain protection for the cattle. The Loch Lomond, it will be remembered, lost 12 beal of cattle through the flimsy construction of the stalls. During the heavy weather the seamship encountered the cattle were without food and water for two days, and when examined wes found to have been ter fibly knocked about. A number of butchers had to be employed upon the Loch Lomond's arrival to kni the injured animals.

Last night's meeting was convened by Mr. Revington. A Justice of the leave and a gentleman farredy interested in the hermondeley tamberies. Speeche were made against the cattle bill, and the assemblage was assured that the fransathactic cattle trale was as well conducted as it could possible be. These speeches, however, were frequently interrusted by lead protests and contradictors remarks from many of those present. It was suggested that the meeting was packed in the increase of the Cattle bill, a man arose and amid encurraging cries and discouraging groups denounced the meeting as being a beginning of the Cattle bill, and the passage of the Cattle bill, and an arose and fingtand. The speaker said that he had been in New York city and was accumented with the work may of the transatiantic cattle trade, and fingtand. The speaker said that he had been in New York city and was accumented with the work may of the transatiantic cattle trade, and he added that he could not conceive a more "inhuman, weetched, diabolical" trade ire-mendous applance and counter groups than that of shipping live cattle from America to and he added to the property of the property o

England.

Renewed cheers greated the gentleman who had visited New York when, continuing, he said that Mr. Chapin was doing a "manly, humane thing" in trying to stop this "in a moustrade." This remark was followed by loud shouts of "No. no." from these opposed to changing the present system. Get down; turn him out "yelled the cattlemen, A loud clames for and against the man from New York. amor for and against the man from New York followed.

The man from New York loudly appealed to the meeting to case an amendment in support of the bill lecause, he claimed, it was in the interest of the prevention of cruelty to animals. This, however, the so-called bogus recting refused to do, and, with tremendent uprear, the original motion was cased, the cattlemen cheering themselves hoarse and the friends of the bill groaning and hooting at them with considerable vigor.

Three More that the Treasury Depart-Frederick W. Vanderbilt did not pay yesterday the duties of $34.000 asses ed on his yacht Conqueror. The yacht is still at Stapleton, in charge of Surveyor Lyon's inspectors. Mr. Vanderbilt decided to await the return of Elihu Root before proceeding further in the case. Mr. Loot will be in town either to-day or early next week.

It was said that possibly the Collector would proceed also against three other English-built yachts owned by Americans and now in commission in American waters. The yachts trained are the Miranda built at Wive-hoe, England, in 18.6, and owned by George H. B. Hills, the cutter Minerva, built at Fairle, Scotland, in 1888, and owned by John D. Carroll, and the Golden Fleece, built at East Cowes in 1880, and owned by Francis P. Osborne. In 1881, and owned by Francis P. Osborne. In 1881, it was learned that steps had been taken to call the Tra-ury Department sattention to these three yachts. Eminent customs authorities believe that these is a list should ray duty at 45 per cent, as imported manulactures of iron. But lawyers think that the United States courts in ay upset the decision of the Treasury Department.
